STOCK BROKERS MAKE GENERAL DENIAL OF TIP

White and Baruch Both Claim They Did Not Have a Tip on the Peace Note

New York, Jan. 30.—A sweeping denial that he had received an advance information concerning the peace moves of the German Emperor and President Wilson before they were made public in the papers was made by Archibald S. White, "Count Bernadotte's friend," when he resumed the witness stand at the congressional leak inquiry today.

"I had no information concerning either document before their publication," said White emphatically.

Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for the committee, read to White bits of previous testimony showing that knowledge of the two peace moves were obtained in Teutonic circles before publication, but while admitting that he and the German ambassador were good friends, White declared that he had no intimation of the two secrets.

Rep. Campbell made an unsuccessful attempt to get White's opinion concerning Thomas W. Lawson. "I think he is a remarkable character," said White.

"But do you think he should be in an insane asylum or jail as has been suggested here?"

"That is not for me to say," said White.

White denied that he and Lawson in their weekly meeting ever discussed what effect a peace move would have on the market.

Rep. Leinroot of Wisconsin examined White as to his relation with Lawson.

"You continued to have cordial relations with a man who made statements about you, which you have characterized as false and as a romance?" asked Leinroot.

"Not cordial relations exactly. I attach no importance to them," replied White.

In response to a question by Rep. Chipfield, White declared that he never attached much importance to the bulk of Lawson's statement.

Harvard M. Baruch was called when White finished. Baruch denied that he had any news sources to guide him in his stock market trading other than the stock ticker. He submitted a detailed statement of his "long" and "short" stock transactions from Dec. 1 to Dec. 23.

HARTFORD HAS MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Big Department Store of G. Fox & Co. Destroyed; Others Threatened.

(Special to The Herald)

Hartford Conn., Jan. 30.—Fire which consumed the department store of G. Fox & Co., and the Woolworth & 10c store, the two establishments, including a string of buildings stretching north on the east side of Main street, from the big department store of Brown, Thompson & Co., to Talcott street, did considerable damage by smoke and water to the plant of the Brown, Thompson & Co., and at one time threatened to sweep the entire shopping center. The fire caused a loss that may reach a million dollars.

The fire, which started in the basement of one of the buildings occupied by the Fox Co., may have been the work of an incendiary. The police and fire chiefs have started an investigation of the fire.

A string of incendiary basement fires which recently caused alarm in this city were recalled when it was learned that this was the way the Fox fire started.

Monroe Doctrine Will Not Be Effected Was President Wilson's Intention

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Lewis, Democratic whip of the U. S. Senate, today introduced a resolution designed to clarify interpretation of the President's message. The resolution declared "that it is the sense of the U. S. Senate that the address of the President, delivered to the Senate on Jan. 22, 1917, does not propose the abolition or limitation of the Monroe doctrine of America in its effect or application to any part of the western hemisphere, nor does it propose to send the army or navy of the United States or any military or naval power of the United States to any foreign territory, except when necessary to preserve the peace of the United States or to protect the just rights of America or Americans where the same is assailed." It was generally understood in the senate that the resolution has the approval of the administration and it is intended as a counter move to the Borah resolution proposing that the senate reaffirm its faith in the Monroe doctrine and Washington's warning against "entangling alliances."

THAW'S BODY GUARD IN THIS STATE

New York Jan. 29.—Harry K. Thaw's bodyguard, calling himself George O'Byrne, who was indicted with Thaw on a charge of kidnapping Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, has been found, according to Asst. District Attorney Black, at his home in New Hampshire. He has not been arrested.

"We have been in communication with his lawyer," said Mr. Black today, "and we believe he will return voluntarily and become a witness against Thaw. We expect to send for him as soon as extradition papers are ready."

Val O'Farrell, called at the District attorney's office today and said Thaw would voluntarily return to New York to face trial when he had sufficiently recovered from the attempt on his life.

DOPE CRUSADE ON IN THIS STATE

Two Arrested at Nashua and
This City Next in Line.

Nashua, Jan. 30.—Two arrests, made here last night by Federal authorities, on charges of issuance of fraudulent prescriptions for opiates, are given added importance through the fact that they represent the first step in a state-wide crusade conducted by the federal authorities against the illegal sale of drugs.

The two men arrested are John Nash, 25, night clerk at the Tremont House, and John Shea, 22, of 27 Mulberry street, mill operative. They will be arraigned in the United States District Court at Concord today on the charge of violation of the Federal narcotics act.

The arrests were made by United States Marshal Charles J. O'Neil and Sgt. D. J. Halsey of the local police department, and came as the result of several days' investigation by John J. Donovan, attached to the Boston staff of the department of justice.

Marshal O'Neil stated last night that this was but the beginning of a state-wide campaign against the illegal sale of "dope" and that he would visit Portsmouth and Dover today. It is understood that federal investigators have been working in the larger cities of New Hampshire for some days, gathering evidence and the visit of Marshal O'Neil to other places, is expected to bring further developments.

Nash and Shea, the young men who will be arraigned on so serious a charge today, are well known here, especially Nash, in his position as night clerk at the Tremont. They are well appearing, young men, and have borne good reputations.

It is claimed that they used physicians' blanks and forged the prescriptions, and it is further alleged to have been shown, as a result of the federal investigator's inquiries, that the young men have been very successful in the number of prescriptions issued.

New Hampshire people read with interest, a few weeks ago, of the crusade against drug sellers in Massachusetts, and were amazed at the revelations of the investigators, at work there, but of real personal and far more vital interest is the campaign now on in this state.

The federal authorities in this state have been working quietly and nothing was known of their quest until the arrests were made at Nashua last night. And from what is said, still more arrests are apt to be made in various parts of the state within a short time.

It is believed likely that the effective campaign against drug selling in Massachusetts, that succeeded in closing many places, where drugs were easily procurable, and also stopped the street traffic, resulted in an impetus to drug selling in this state, as victims, deprived of Massachusetts sources, would come here in the hopes of procuring their opiates.

MARINES LOSE OPENING GAME

DEFEATED BY THE Y. M. C. A. BASKETBALL TEAM BY SCORE OF 38 TO 16 LAST EVENING.

In a fast clean basketball game at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Monday evening the Marine team was defeated by the Y. M. C. A. 32 to 16. The game was the opening one for the Marine team and although they lost by a large score their play is indicative of a fast team before the season is very far advanced. In the third period Captain Cunningham made several changes in his line, putting in four substitutes and replacing Lantz at center with Brown, the left forward. Lintwyler and Miller, both men strange to the game, played well and show considerable promise.

For the winners Smith, Craig and Rand scored the points. Cunningham, Brown and Lantz scored all the points for the Marines.

In the first two periods the Marines held their opponents close, the scores being 6 to 4 and 14 to 10, at the end of the periods, respectively. In the last period the Y. M. C. A. scored nine baskets. The summary:

Y. M. C. A.	Marines
Smith, 10	10
Craig, 10	10
Rand, 10	10
Cunningham, 10	10
Brown, 10	10

VETOES IMMIGRATION BILL

President Wilson Gives Same Reason as Cleveland and Taft.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson today vetoed the immigration bill passed recently by congress, because of its literacy test provision.

It was the second time that the President had vetoed an immigration bill for that reason, and Presidents Taft and Cleveland took similar action.

The President's veto message to the house, in which the bill originated follows:

"I very much regret to return this bill without my signature.

"In most of the provisions of the bill I should be very glad to concur, but I cannot rid myself of the conviction that the literacy test constitutes a radical change in the policy of the nation which is not justified in principle. It is not a test character of quality or of personal fitness, but would operate in most cases merely as a penalty for lack of opportunity in the country from which the alien seeking admission came.

"The opportunity to gain an education as in many cases one of the chief opportunities sought by the immigrant in coming to the U. S. and our experience in the past has not been that the illiterate immigrant is, as such, an undesirable immigrant. Tests of quality and of purpose cannot be objected to on principles, but tests of opportunity surely may be.

"Moreover even if this test might be equitably insisted on, one of the exceptions proposed to its application involves provision which might lead to very delicate and hazardous diplomatic situations.

"The bill exempts from the operation of the literacy test all aliens who shall prove to the satisfaction of the proper immigration officer or to the secretary of labor that they are seeking admission to the United States to avoid religious persecution in the country of their last permanent residence, whether such persecution be evidenced by overt acts or by laws of governmental regulations that discriminate against the alien or the race to which he belongs because of his religious faith."

"Such a provision so applied, and administered, would oblige the officer concerned, in effect, to pass judgment upon the laws and practices of a foreign government, and declare that they did or did not constitute religious persecutions. This would, to say the least, be a most invidious function for any administration officer of this government to perform, and it is not only possible, but probable that very serious questions of international justice and comity would arise between this government and the government or the governments thus officially condemned, should its exercise be adopted.

"I dare say that these consequences were not in the minds of the proponents of this provision, but the provision separately and in itself renders it unwise for me to give my assent to this legislation in its present form."

Indications of Mr. Harrison's possible retirement first were seen in the disclosure that Senator James H. Hamilton, Lewis was supporting Ex-Gov. David I. Walsh of Massachusetts for an office in the Philippine Government. It is understood that nothing would appeal to Mr. Walsh except the position of Governor General.

On this disclosure, friends of Ex-Gov. John I. Dix of New York, today got busy and presented his name to officials high in the confidence of the White House. The suggestion was not laid before the War Department, which has supervision over the Philippines, but probably will be taken up there within a short time.

The appointment of Mr. Harrison was regarded at the time as a White House selection, and due even more to the influence of Manuel L. Quezon, then resident commissioner from the Philippines, than to any influence from William J. Bryan, then Secretary of State.

Mr. Harrison's retirement, it is understood, would be purely voluntary on his part, even if not against the wishes of the Administration. Friction has developed, once or twice in his administration, as when Gen. Clinton B. Rikes of Baltimore resigned as Commissioner of Police of the Philippines, but on the whole the administration is understood to have been conducted to the satisfaction of the Government in Washington.

Walsh May Go To Philippines

To Succeed Gov. Gen. Harrison Is the Report.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The resignation of Francis Burton Harrison as Governor General of the Philippines is expected in well-informed circles in Washington, possibly before President Wilson's second inauguration. Mr. Harrison was appointed Governor General in September, 1913, while a member of the House of Representatives from New York.

Indications of Mr. Harrison's possible retirement first were seen in the disclosure that Senator James Hamilton, Lewis was supporting Ex-Gov. David I. DO NOT FEAR FOR DEUTSCHLAND

Rumors About New London That Undersea Boat Is Overdue.

New London, Ct., Jan. 29.—Since the North German Lloyd steamship Wilhelm's code flag, which dressed ship in honor of the Kaiser's birthday were hauled down at sunset last Saturday, there has been a suspension of rumors that has kept the Teuton mother ship and the state pier where the Deutschland docked, pretty well in the limelight.

The U. S. submarine, G-1 arriving from Newport about 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, landing at the Deutschland pier to allow an officer to catch a train, caused a sensation through the town, for word went forth that Capt. Koenig had made his third successful trip and his good ship Deutschland was once more moored within the stockade. When the merchants opened their stores for business this morning another report was in circulation that a German submarine, this time a full-fledged war boat, with all the trimmings had stolen up the three-mile 20-foot channel under cover of darkness, whether running on the surface or submerged and warped her way into the dock alongside the steamer Wilhelm and tied up for an hour or two.

Captain Frederick Hirsch, port captain of the North German steamship line and local agent of the Eastern Forwarding Company, said tonight that there was no truth whatever in the story of a German submarine, either a merchantman or war ship arriving at the dock during the night.

"How about the story published today that the Deutschland had been sunk or captured?" the captain was asked.

"No truth in it; she is neither captured nor sunk," he replied. He refused to say whether or not she had started from Germany.

The presence of the new U. S. submarine G-1 which caused a sensation here Saturday night, is explained by Commander Yates Sterling, in charge of the local submarine base. "There are two submarines now at the base" said the commander, "the G-1, which is of the Lake type, and the B-1, of Holland design. As there are several officers now attending the training school, the G-1 was brought here from Newport to give the young men thorough instructions in both the Lake and Holland submarines."

Touching upon the rumor that a German undersea fighter had visited the Wilhelm during the night, Commander Sterling said that the rumor was undoubtedly false.

"I do not think the Eastern Forwarding Company or North German Lloyd officers would allow such a strong suspicion to be brought against them by taking such a chance" said the commander.

SHAKEUP IN CABINET IS AGAIN PREDICTED

Lansing, McAdoo, Houston and Redfield Slated to Go According to Reports--Carter Glass and Carl Vrooman Mentioned

Washington, Jan. 29.—A big cabinet shift will take place early in President Wilson's second term, it was learned today. This will be in addition to the diplomatic shake-up which will take place about March 4, or very soon thereafter.

These expected cabinet changes, however, will not begin, it is believed, until several months after the President's second inauguration. In all cases, it is stated, the cabinet resignations to come will be "voluntary."

The contemplated changes will affect the treasury, agriculture, commerce and probably state portfolios.

Of the four probable changes that at the state department is the most uncertain. Reports that Secretary Lansing might succeed Ambassador Page at London have been rife, but talk of this shift is said to be based only on report.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston will leave his post probably in the summer it is reliably stated.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield will accept a position with a large manufacturing concern in the early fall, and Secretary McAdoo will enter private business about the same time.

There are the usual rumors of other changes, but there appears little likelihood that beyond the four men mentioned there will be any other resignations during the first year of the President's second term.

As successors, Carl Vrooman has been mentioned for Houston's place, and Representative Carter Glass for the portfolio now held by Secretary McAdoo.

The President, however, has been so engaged with international matters that he has been unable to give the cabinet question little thought.

At present the President is struggling with two appointments for the federal trade commission, one for the shipping board, and three for the tariff board.

John Alexander Julian, a prominent business man of Cincinnati, O., is mentioned as a probable choice for one of the trade commissioners.

The other choice will be a Progressive Republican. All of these appointments are expected within a few weeks.

PORTLAND TO HAVE CAMP FOR MILITARY TRAINING

The great success of the Summer Military Training Camps of the past two years has led to an increase in the number of camps planned for the coming summer. A second Junior division camp to be held at Portland, Me. The New England recruiting committee of the Military Training Camps Association has begun the work of recruiting men and boys for the training camps to be held in the eastern department this summer. Headquarters are at 42 Water Street, Boston.

Four camps of the senior division will be held at Plattsburg, N. Y., in June, July, August and September. These camps are for all men who are citizens or who have taken out first papers between the ages of 18 and 45 years.

The Junior division is for boys from 15 to 18 years of age. There will be two camps for the Juniors, at Plattsburg, N. Y., and at Portland, Me. The Plattsburg camp was attended by 1256 boys and it was such a success that more than 10,000 applications have already been received for this year.

Last year there was an attendance of more than 18,000 men at the "business men's" camps. The association officers are striving for an attendance of 60,000 men at the camps which will be held this year in four parts of the country with an attendance of at least 25,000 at the camps held in the eastern department.

One of the features of this year's camps will be the trying out on a large scale of the plan recently adopted by the government of paying barracks and living expenses of men attending the camps. The army appropriation bill of 1916 included an allowance to pay the expenses of men attending the camps last summer. The news came late in the season and men who attended the camps paid their entire expenses, but were afterwards allowed refunds by the government.

Besides the Boston headquarters, a recruiting office has been opened in Providence, R. I.

One of the functions of the training camps will be that of supplying material for the newly created officers' reserve corps of the regular army. Men attending the camps get a practical

COPPER THIEVES MAKE BIG HAULS FROM RAILROADS

STREET CAR LINES ROBBED OF COPPER BANDS TO THE VALUE OF SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS.

As a result of a number of raids made in this section by what is believed to be a band of thieves working simultaneously the several street railways have lost several hundreds of dollars worth of copper from their rails. The losses were discovered only on Monday, and the raids are believed to have been made Sunday night or Monday morning, after the cars had stopped running for the night. The copper taken from the roads are the copper bands which form the connections between the rails and are about thirty-five inches long, weighing in the neighborhood of two pounds.

The heaviest loser is the Atlantic Shore Railway from whose rails bands were stripped for a distance of several miles near Bra' Boat Harbor. The Portsmouth Electric Railroad lost more than 1000 feet at North Hampton along the North Shore section of the road. On the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury Street railroad another 1000 feet of their rails was stripped of the bands, near Hampton Beach.

Officials have notified the authorities of the losses and an investigation is under way. At the present price being paid for copper the thieves have secured a haul which will net them a big amount, provided they are able to dispose of it before the authorities can put a stop to the sales.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky, ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

BOSTON IS WORRIED OVER NAVY DEPARTMENT PLANS

Boston is very much exercised over the fact that the Navy Department is likely to ship that yard in planning big ship construction. There does not appear to be any great effort here to secure building yards for big ship building. There should be. Portsmouth, can beat out any of the yards in this work if given a show. We want the facilities here. We want more dry docks and berthing space. It is an easy matter to cancel an order for small fittings, etc., but you cannot wipe out modern shipbuilding plants. A permanent navy yard means an up to date plant for all kinds of ship work. We should not lose sight of this fact.

Along with our manufacturing plant must go the constant upbuilding of the yard for capital ship work as well as torpedo boats and submarines. In ten years from now Portsmouth harbor will be the only one that the largest dreadnaughts can enter. Let's not relinquish our efforts for advancement and improvement. The Chronicle does not propose to allow any lessening of our efforts for the maintaining this station as of the first rank. Here is what Congressman Tinkham of Boston says about Boston:

The appointment of a special board to investigate and report "what is necessary to fit the Boston Navy Yard conditions."

As members of the board he suggested Rear Admiral Burt, Capt. W. P. Rush, R. C. Holladay, Capt. William J. Baxter and Commander Frank Lyon.

"Battleships eventually will be built at Bremerton, League Island, Norfolk, Mare Island and New York, but Boston will be left out," says Mr. Tinkham's letter. "There is every reason why battleships should be built at the Charles-town yard, but the wharves have been built out into the stream at such an angle as to preclude use in the building of ships."

Congress proposes to spend $12,000,000 extra on the construction of battleships in navy yards, and Mr. Tinkham says he thinks some of this should go to Boston.

"Last year, through the efforts of Senator Lodge, Congressman Taggart and myself, the Boston navy yard was one of those named with League Island, Bremerton, and Norfolk at which battleships could be constructed. Nothing has been done in this line for the Boston navy yard and nothing seems probable to be done under present conditions."

Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, of Schenectady, N. Y., is not only generally considered the leading electrical engineer of the country, but he is interested and active in many of the important social problems of the hour. For the readers of International News Service newspapers he has consented to write the following article on "Co-operation."

Personal liberty and equality before the law has been the foundation and competition and driving force which created our modern civilization by unfeeling the ambition, energy and skill of all human beings.

The development of the steam engine and of electric power and all the inventions following it, gave the tools for the industrial progress. But when machinery has developed to the stage where the productive capacity of our industries exceeded the possible demand for the products, under existing social conditions, then competition became a destructive force, drove the price of commodities down below the cost of production and so created an unstable condition which should end only with the destruction of the competition and industrial co-operation had to take its place.

In the European war we see the final fight between the warring competitive system and the coming co-operative one. This issue has been decided and co-operation won, whatever may be the military outcome of the war, for the individualistic nations, even England included had to adopt the co-operative organization of their national organism to survive.

Against the terrible efficiency of the co-operative industrial organization of Europe after the war, our country will have no chance; but hopelessly outclassed, will sink to second rank as an industrial nation unless we also accept industrial co-operation as the guiding light.

This means recognition of the corporation as industries most efficient tool. It means that we must cease to legislate against industrial co-operation to attempt the resurrection of a dead era, that of competition, by man-made laws, which violate the economic laws of nature, but must assist and encourage co-operation and consolidation of corporations into organizations controlling all industries, while at the same time providing such safeguards which, without in the least interfering with the industrial productive efficiency of co-operation, protect the public against any possible abuse of corporate power.

Furthermore, we must bring about the co-operation of the worker with the industries by eliminating the three great fears which now hang over the majority of human beings; the fear of unemployment, the fear of sickness and the fear of old age, by providing an effective unemployment, sickness and old age insurance.

That is, we must forever outlaw the attitude of Cain's question: "Am I my brother's keeper?" and realize that every one of us in modern society is indeed responsible for the well being of every other member of our nation.

Then the social condition of the masses of our people will be superior to that in any other nation, then the masses will have an interest, in the maintenance of our nation, and without preparedness parades and other vain attempts of creating a sham patriotism we will again find all the citizens of our nation as patriotic as they were in the days of old. Patriotism means the realization that your own nation is superior to any other, and this can exist only when based on economic facts.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION AT THE LAFAYETTE

IS FORMALLY ORGANIZED AT LARGELY ATTENDED MEET-ING HELD LAST EVENING AT THE SCHOOL

With an attendance of more than 100 the Lafayette Parent-Teachers' Association was formally organized on Monday evening at a meeting held at the school, sixty-two members, being enrolled. Joseph P. Conner, former post master of Portsmouth, was elected President of the association by the meeting, which was called to order by Herbert O. Prime, the temporary chairman. The other officers of the association elected by the meeting are:

Vice president, Mrs. William N. Huggs. Secretary treasurer, Miss Margaret Rand.

Executive committee, John C. Hatch, Mrs. F. H. Sands, Mrs. Roy Dixon and Miss Annie Morrison, principal of the Lafayette schools.

An enjoyable musical program was rendered by the Apollo Quartet during a social hour which followed the meeting and refreshments of coffee and fancy crackers were served. The constitution was submitted and adopted before the meeting adjourned. With the organization of the Lafayette school association, practically every school in the city now has its Parent-Teachers' Association. The associations have been instrumental in bringing the pupils, teachers, and parents into closer relations socially and have in all cases resulted for the educational benefit of the pupils.

CANDIA MAN ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT

Arthur Proctor of Candia and Bristol was arrested on Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Wilbur B. Shaw and minor child. He was arraigned this morning before Judge Gault in the Municipal court.

Proctor is about 35 years of age, is a resident of Candia and a woodman by occupation. He has been working in Bristol for some little time but returned on Sunday, as was his custom, to his home. A few years ago his wife was committed to the state hospital at Concord as she was mentally unbalanced, and Mr. Proctor put his child to board with a neighbor. It is alleged that he has lately neglected to pay for the child's board, and complaint was made to Sheriff Spinney.

The death of Daniel C. Remick of Littleton removes one of the brightest minds in the state. He was an able legislator and was the leader of honest reforms for many years. One could not help from admiring his fighting qualities. He was always in the open battling for right and justice. "Dan," as he was familiarly known, loved a good "scrap" and he always gave an excellent account of himself. He had the respect of his opponents at all times because they knew he was sincere and honest and that he was fighting for what he considered honest and just. His death will cause deep regret throughout the state.

Some people are worrying about the dumping of unskilled labor upon this country after the close of the war. To others it seems likely that there will be an unprecedented demand for labor, skilled and unskilled, in the countries now engaged in war, and that this will safeguard the United States against any sudden over-supply of the labor market. One of the weaknesses of the people of this country is their proneness to forget that "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

A western penitentiary warden recommends that minimum prison sentences be doubled and that prisoners should be allowed to spend half of each year at home. This seems to be a good idea, so far as it goes. But would it not be better to quadruple the sentences and let prisoners spend all of their time at home? "Uplifting" is something which should never be done by halves.

When the national guardsmen were sent to the border a great deal was said about their employers holding their places for them, but that this was not universally done is indicated by the fact that the federal bureau of immigration is trying to obtain places for the large number who find themselves out of a job.

A woman prisoner on Blackwell's Island, New York, has gone on a hunger strike. Imported ideas, like imported goods, are very popular with some people. And the best thing the New York authorities can do is to permit this woman to enjoy her importation in peace.

It is reported that Billy Sunday has declined an offer of $1,000,000 from a motion picture concern, and he can afford to do this. Mr. Sunday's financial condition is extremely healthful and will so remain as long as his business holds up to the present standard.

One paper states that the president's world peace speech in the Senate has precipitated a battle of ideas. To us it seems that is just what is in progress in the old world, and that the contest has been carried to the court of last resort.

The Bethlehem Steel plant is cutting the biggest industrial melon of the year. The war has done wonders for B. S. and those who are fortunate enough to hold its stock.

It is the plan of the government to make Alaska and Hawaii "bone dry," thus placing them on a par with some of the states in this great and glorious republic.

The inmates of Sing Sing prison having approved the new warden, matters in that famous institution should run smoothly until something happens.

It seems too bad that our Queen City cannot extend greetings and honor the returning troopers. Manchester would certainly do the state proud.

The need of united action on the "bridge" bill at Concord is apparent. The Portsmouth delegation should get together.

Militarism's Last Ditch

(From the New York World)

The monarch whose dynasty is founded upon a dominating militarism, and without whose assent the carnage now devastating Europe would not have been entered upon, is at least consistent in his latest expressions of egotism and blood lust.

A few weeks ago Emperor William proposed peace negotiations on behalf of "a Germany conscious of victory." He has since been informed that peace is to be had only on the basis of a recognition by Germany of the wickedness of her position, and of her failure of her attempt to reduce a continent to subjection. Conceding the demands of the Entente Powers for reparation and guarantees as a rough reflection of a sincere act

Wedded to his rapacious war gods and without the vision to perceive the meaning of the danger-signals that confront him at home and abroad, Emperor William has lost the great opportunity presented to him by the President. Many loyal delegations of subjects and allies have dutifully assured him of their unswerving devotion, but millions for whom no one speaks are in distress, and as time passes they will not fail to note more and more clearly that the monstrous delusion which brought this calamity upon Europe is that which now with pious and patriotic words urges a prolongation of the agony chiefly for its own preservation.

A Kaiser capable of profiting by mistakes and as devoted to his people as to his dynasty and his sabre-rattling would have improved this birthday ceremonial by seeking an honorable peace, as necessary to him, in spite of his bragging airs, as to any of his foes. A Germany not wholly given over to idolatry of the war-makers, as is shown by Maximilian Harden's renewed eulogy of President Wilson, may yet be heard impressively in favor of a humane rather than a Hohenzollern peace.

If we cannot hope for a more enlightened Kaiser, a new and a better Germany is still a possibility. There will have to be one or the other before the end of this conflict will be in sight.

The State's Feeble-Minded Wards.

(From the Manchester Mirror.)

The large audience which listened to the address delivered before the Public Forum by the superintendent of New Hampshire's school for feeble-minded, Dr. Benjamin W. Baker, was provided with interesting information relative to how best to care for this problem. It was informing to be told that among all the states New Hampshire ranks fourth in the number of feeble-minded under the care of the state, which means that either we are affording better care for this class of unfortunate or else we have a larger number within our borders than a great majority of the states. The latter is hardly probable and it is therefore most creditable to our state that we are making an effort which far surpasses that of many of the other states in ministering to those who are defective.

Dr. Baker, as the result of his investigations and studies, was able to state that of the large number of defectives who are feeble-minded 80 per cent of the total number can be traced to heredity, and the remaining 20 per cent to accidental causes. The latter number can be decreased by adherence to "safety" principles and the former, Dr. Baker claims, by the better education of the public, by stamping out interbreeding and marriage of defectives by the proper care of children during their earlier years, and by proper methods of treatment as soon as defects are shown. The speaker holds out the hope that in time to come the number of the feeble-minded may be decreased rather than increased.

Manchester to Col. Pender.

(From the Manchester Mirror.)

Manchester members of the legislature will deeply sympathize with Colonel John Pender of Portsmouth, one of the old and valued members from that city, whose wife died on Saturday last, with pneumonia. She was 77 years of age and had been married 53 years. Mrs. Pender is survived by her husband; three sons, Dr. George E. Pender of Portsmouth, Horace G. Pender of Hanover and John L. Pender of Boston, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry B. Boynton of Portsmouth and several grandchildren.

The Woman Suffrage Bill.

(From the Nashua Telegraph.)

The bill that has been introduced in the legislature extending the right of suffrage to women provides for their voting for presidential electors, county, city and town officers. This is all that the bill provides, and all that it can provide without being unconstitutional.

The New Hampshire legislature could not grant suffrage to women to vote for governor, councilors, state senators, or representatives to the legislature, because the constitution of the state restricts the right to vote for these officers to male inhabitants.

The constitution of the United States limits the right to vote for United States senators and congressmen to electors in each state, having the right to vote for members of the most numerous branch of the state legislature. In New Hampshire this is confined to male inhabitants. In some western states women can vote for members of the legislature, and therefore have the right to vote for United States senators and congressmen.

It is fair to those who favor an enlarged suffrage for women that these statements should be made. This question is a live issue, and it should be met fairly and openly, and not by subterfuge and misrepresentation. If a majority of the legislature favor the extension of suffrage to women so that they can vote for presidential electors, county, city and town officers, it is clearly the right of that majority to do so. If a majority does not favor this extension of suffrage it is better for that side of the question that the vote be based upon a clear understanding of the question.

The Dartmouth Spirit.

(From the Manchester Union.)

As a rule, reporters take things pretty much as they come, "covering" an assignment as all in the day's work, with fairness and fidelity, but not of being gripped by it so that their penmanship is lifted out of professional allism. It takes a really gripping thing to do that. When they get into a Dartmouth college gathering, however, they undergo a transformation. There is something in the meeting that gets hold of them. Latent enthusiasms are awakened. They not only feel the thrilling pulsations of the thing itself, but they see visions. Nor is the influence of the gathering dispelled when contact ceases. When the reporters get down in front of their typewriters they write like Dartmouth men who are putting Dartmouth's realities and its dreams into living words. To read some of the newspaper accounts of the alumni meeting at Boston last week was to be in the meeting.

Now if the spirit of a Dartmouth alumni meeting can communicate itself to men who never even saw the college buildings, which it does, through the medium of the newspaper what may not the spirit of the college be doing as it pours itself out through living men in all parts of the country? For Dartmouth is no longer an almost exclusively New England institution. As President Hopkins told the Bostonians, 15 years ago 75 per cent of the collegians came from these six states; now 48 per cent come from other parts of the land. So almost half of every graduating class goes out to help incorporate the Dartmouth idea into our American thought and life.

What the idea is, President Hopkins tells us whenever he is called upon to speak to the world outside the college. It is the college as distinct from the university idea—the broadly cultured conception as distinct from that of specialization. But it is not that of intellectual culture altogether. "The college exists primarily for scholarship," says the president, "but its purpose is also to produce the good man, the man of brains, the man of health, the man of character." This is not a creature of the cloister. When he meets his fellow, there is fellowship. Collectively, these good fellows suggest the idea of dynamic vitality. The spirit of the whole can be no different in its quality than that of the parts, and so we must think of it as that of sound culture in action. It is a fine thing to reflect upon that New Hampshire which gave so much of itself to the building of the west is still contributing to the nation an ideal of this sort through the medium of its great college. There is no question at all that it is doing so. Were all this a mere matter of theory there would be no Dartmouth spirit to warm the cockles of the heart and set reporters' fingers tingling as they write the stories of Dartmouth doings. A current of fine culture and red-blooded virility which runs throughout the length and breadth of the land has its source in Dartmouth college.

Taxing Automobiles.

(From the Peterborough Transcript.)

If the bill now in the legislature to change the taxation of automobiles passes, we shall believe that the owners of motor vehicles are asleep at their wheel. The proposed change is to tax a machine according to its motor power, whether it be an "ice car" or one of the best and highest priced machines made. Dollars and cents do not count in this new proposed change only in motor power. According to this method, we suppose that a horse 25 years of age and a horse 9 years of age, both used about our streets on a teamster's wagon, should be taxed the same. It isn't the youngest horse that always covers the most miles, no more than the 80 horse power auto that is always driven the fastest.

A Public Lawyer.

(From the Concord Democrat.)

One of our New Hampshire senators has introduced a bill, which provides for a public lawyer, at an annual salary of $3000, to furnish free advice in legal matters to residents of the state. This would be very nice of course, and probably in due time the public lawyer would be followed by the public physician, and perhaps, eventually by free coal, ice and necessities of life.

The Red Book.

(From the Concord Monitor.)

The 600 pages in the 25th issue of the New Hampshire "Red Book," or manual of the state government, are full of valuable information, given in a form easy of access and reference. Secretary of State Bean and Deputy Pillsbury, by whom the manual was edited, are entitled to much credit for the issue of so useful a publication.

Boats on the "Big Lake."

(From the Meredith News.)

The biennial report of the New Hampshire public service commission is at hand and by it we see that there are registered on Lake Umbagog 191 utility boats and 666 private boats, a regular fleet, Lake Waukegan has 6 private boats, Winnequinn 131, Assiquinn 105, Sunapee 204.

MRS. COWLES' SUNDAY STORY ON SOCIAL UPLIFT

Soldier Takes Exceptions to Statements of a Portsmouth Woman.

Mrs. Florence J. Cowles writing under the name of Florence Walcott has a long article in The American on the social uplift in New Hampshire. Mary I. Wood of this city, was one of those interviewed and she said:

"With the exception of one bill, all bills relating to social matters were defeated in the house."

"The one bill that received the approval of the legislators was the teachers' pension bill, making 1918 the first year in the history of the state in which the teachers were pensioned."

"As it was, the house only voted to pension them for the year owing to the senate constitution, which necessitates its coming up again this year in the constitutional convention before becoming a permanent thing."

"Some of the bills voted down at the last legislature were the bills for the care of children, the 64-hour week bill for women and children, the bill for taking care of the feeble-minded women of child-bearing age, the equal suffrage bill and the bill calling for the state-wide supervision of schools."

"The legislature is made up of stinging men of strong minds, who think for themselves but have not turned their attention to the study of the progress being made in social service work."

"Many of these men come from districts where perhaps there should be only a few cases of social degeneracy."

"There are a few men who feel that all they must do is to enact a whip and everyone must get into line."

"This year the bill for the state care of the feeble-minded women of child-bearing age will come up again as will most of the other social welfare bills which were defeated at the last legislature."

"Then too, the women ask for the same voting privileges that the women of Illinois now enjoy. We also ask for an increased appropriation for the mothers' pension which is at present getting along as best it can on an annual appropriation of $8,000."

"One objection to which I have given much thought is this: Do you realize that we have no place in the whole state of New Hampshire to which we can send girls for preventive care?"

"A number of years ago my attention was called to a little girl of 13 here in Portsmouth who was beginning to hang around the street corners."

"We took the matter up with the chief of police, but as the child was not an actual idiot and not a pauper there was no institution to which she could be sent as a protection to herself and to society."

"Portsmouth, with its large floating population of sailors and marines who had here after a long cruise with money to spend, with the town wide open as far as license goes, is not a good place for girls who have not the right kind of mothers to watch over them."

"This little girl in question, not long after we had discussed her situation and had realized our inability to take care of her owing to the laws and lack of institutions, was sent to the county farm but just before the birth of her baby her father removed her. The baby was born diseased.

"In a short time that girl was back at her old haunts. She is now 18 years old and she has spent the intervening five years between Brentwood (the county jail) where she has been sent for disorderly conduct or some such charge, the county farm where she would give birth to another diseased baby and then back to the streets of Portsmouth to spread disease, and we all knew it but there was no place to send her! Can you realize a more diabolical situation?"

"Aside from the terrible life that the girl herself was leading, do you realize the effect physical and mental that she is having on the community and the damage that she is doing?"

"And another thing, do you know that there isn't a place in the state that treats diseases such as hers and what is equally lamentable, there is no laboratory being run to make the necessary tests to ascertain who is diseased and who is not?"

"Of course in the case of this girl, her disease has reached a stage where it is evident, but there are thousands and thousands of cases where only a laboratory test can determine its presence."

"But it is these cases which are dangerous to the community. It is my great wish to see the state provide a home for young girls along the lines of the state farm, an out-of-door school where the children may be trained to become useful, right living women."

"It would be my idea to have, no court sentence which would leave a stigma on them after their discharge, but rather that they should be committed to the care of some board or commission which would have the power to judge and treat with the girls individually, not collectively."

"This school which I have in mind would be quite separate from the proposed institutions for the care of the feeble-minded. It would be for the care of normal girls who do not receive a chance out in the world."

"When these girls would go out from such a school, they would go trained for some service, they would have had a healthy out-of-door life, the state would have given them an opportunity to develop mentally and physically under wholesome surroundings."

"Such a school or home is today, the crying need in New Hampshire."

The Herald prints the interview of Mrs. Cowles so that the following communication may be understood by the readers which is as follows: Portsmouth, N. H., Jan. 29, 1917. Editor Herald:

In an article which appeared in the Boston American of Sunday, Jan. 28, a prominent Portsmouth lady is reported to have said this: "Portsmouth with its large floating population of sailors and marines, is an unsafe place for young girls who have not the right kind of mothers to look after them."

You will notice that nothing was said of the degenerated bunch that exists in all branches of Portsmouth society, but that the burden of unsafe conditions was placed solely upon the enlisted men of this station. It is just such foolish and unreasoning statements as this, that give the great body of people the wrong impression of the enlisted man.

Now, the writer was a civilian long before he became a soldier and would like to suggest that "Mrs. Reformer" investigate the young men of her own society; get a line on the common brand of conversation and practices they indulge in. If she will do this in an impartial manner she will find out who really are responsible for corrupt morals in the city of Portsmouth.

Yours for fair play,

Vatican Upholds Texas Girl's Marriage to Count

Gets Back at "Justice"

A contributor to your paper signing himself "Justice," made some comments on the granting by the city government of the use of a room in the old armory to the Portsmouth Band and of the opposition to turning over the rest of the building to the Veteran Firemen's Association, where they would be on hand to run to fire on the first alarm.

The writer of that article intimated that the opposition was "instigated by the men of the regular department. As a member of the regular department, I want to state that that idea is wrong. The regulars think the veterans are all right in their place, but that place is not at a fire after the first alarm."

It has been demonstrated on numerous occasions that the regular department is only hindered at a bad blaze by the unwelcome attempts at aiding by any but active and practical men who have been trained in the work of fire-fighting.

"Justice" says that reward should be given where reward is due. If a reward is due those heroes of the past, let them wait until the city government passes a firemen's pension ordinance, and I hope they all come under such a law, but as for giving them quarters on Court street, that is all out of the question. The city already provides suitable quarters for them and also light and heat for the same.

What do they want of two headquarters? Is the True Priest to be resurrected and installed on Court street in charge of Captain Muchmore and the Purdies to occupy the present quarters?

It would appear that "Justice" does not know the conditions of the old armory when he states that the drying out of the hose is done there. Perhaps this could be accomplished with the addition of a few more stories.

It is about time that this "hot air" about handouts and their crowding the places of modern equipment and regular firemen to cease.

The Bridge Question

Editor:

Legislative reports show that the bills to free toll bridges are as numerous this year as in the past. Dover wants Elliot bridge made free; somebody asks the legislature to stop toll collections on the Hampton River bridge and Portsmouth wants a new and free bridge across the Piscataqua.

Would it not be a good plan to work for one at a time and drop the rest. Take the biggest one first, the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge, which needs the attention of the legislatures of Maine and New Hampshire more than any other bill so far introduced this season. Why not work it under the same method used in getting armories—go for one at a time.

As to the Hampton bridge, it is an easy matter to dispose of it. The company that controls it will give it to the state, county or town, providing they will maintain it.

Dover would not lose much if the Elliot bridge was not made free for the present as there is not much traffic over that structure.

BIG FLEET AFTER RAIDER

British Squadron Now Off
This Coast; Protecting Steamship Lines.

(Special to The Herald).
New York, Jan. 30.—A big squadron of British war vessels are off the American coast formed into a net to comb the sea for traces of two German commerce raiders which are supposed to have abandoned the South American field for the more lucrative steamer lanes of the north. In the hunting squadron are said to be the fastest cruisers and destroyers that are in the navy. The squadron is said to be in the vicinity of New York today, according to a cable from the admiralty. This big fleet will for a time watch the steamship lines between this city, Liverpool and France, to protect the heavy shipments of munitions which are now under way.

KITTERY

In the Kittery court last evening was tried the case of Joseph Bonnin of Portsmouth charged with insulting Mrs. Inez Grover, on Government street last Wednesday afternoon. Samuel W. Emory, Esq., of Portsmouth, city solicitor, appeared for Mr. Bonnin. Ralph C. Gray, Esq., also of Portsmouth, conducted the case for the prosecution. It was shown that Bonnin who was an utter stranger to Mrs. Grover, met her on the street, and stepping in front of her attempted to draw her in conversation. She afterward found that Bonnin was apparently following her and then she made a complaint to the deputy sheriff. No defense was offered but Attorney Emory pleaded that no offense had been committed. Bonnin was fined $5 and costs of $2.15 which he paid.

OSBORNE SUGGESTS REFORMS

Makes a Report to Secretary
Daniels on the Naval Prison.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Thomas Mott Osborne, the former warden of Sing Sing who as Tom Brown, spent a week as a prisoner in the Portsmouth naval prison to study the conditions there for Secretary Daniels, called at the navy department today and told the secretary he had a number of reforms to suggest which he would outline soon in writing. Voluntary prisoners with Osborne were Osborne's secretary, Mr. Bondsky, and A. H. MacCormick, an instructor at Bowdoin, who will co-operate in preparing the report.

The former warden met inquiries as to his exact status in the prison by calling attention to the shaven scalp and by relating how he was sentenced to five days on bread and water because he refused at first to remove two rings when ordered to strip and don prison garb. The sentence was cancelled when Osborne, satisfied with the test of discipline, complied with the order.

Busy at Charlestown

Many of the warcraft at the Charlestown navy yard are to be placed in first class condition for the spring maneuvers, but it is feared that serious delay may occur because of the lack of skilled mechanics at the local station.

The Marietta was undergoing repairs recently but work on the gunboat was suspended temporarily because of lack of workmen. The Marietta and the battleship Rhode Island were placed in drydock yesterday afternoon. The Rhode Island will be given an overhauling and Captain Julian T. Lattimer is expected to receive orders to sail for Southern waters the latter part of February.

Repairs are being made on the torpedo boat destroyer Jenkins which was rammed some time ago. The battleships Georgia and Nebraska are to undergo necessary repairs as soon as possible.

Work on the model of the new gun ship to be constructed at the Charlestown navy yard is under way and it is expected that the new ship will be started in the spring.

Will Prevent Discharge

The allotments made for January and the amounts expected for the coming months of February and March will likely prevent any discharge among the civilian force of the yard.

Brakeman Fell From Train
While Going 40 Miles an Hour.

Dover, Jan. 29.—Harry J. Roberts of Somersworth, brakeman on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine railroad, met with a peculiar accident yesterday. He fell from the rear end of the train near the Dover arch while the train was going at 40 miles an hour and rolled about 200 feet.

George Ogden, a brakeman, who was standing in the middle of the car, saw Mr. Roberts fall and pulled the emergency signal and the train was brought to a standstill. Mr. Ogden and Conductor Gidden and the train crew all went back with a stretcher, but to their surprise Mr. Roberts was walking along the embankment. As he lay between the rails, he looked back and saw in the darkness a headlight of the New York train. He realized his danger and getting up started to run.

Mr. Roberts was told that he had better go to the hospital, but he refused and was taken to his home. It was found that he had besides a few bruises, a couple of broken ribs.

POMEROY A MENACE SAYS BOYHOOD ACQUAINTANCE

Former Lieutenant-Governor Barry Says Governor
McCall Made Mistake in Commuting Sentence

Boston, Jan. 29.—That Jesse Pomerooy ought to be left in solitary confinement and that to remove him from it would be alike unfair and dangerous to the other inmates of the State Prison is the opinion expressed by Ex-Lieut. Gov. E. P. Barry.

Mr. Barry is in a position to be an authority on the case of Jesse Pomerooy. Not only did he know him as a boy in South Boston many years ago, but as Lieutenant Governor and ex-officio head of the Executive Council he took occasion to make an especial study of Pomerooy's case. His comments on the present situation are printed in the Boston American today, are in part as follows:

"Unless Gov. McCall and the Council rescind their well-meaning but unfortunate action immediately somebody is going to get hurt. Either Pomerooy will get one of his fellow-prisoners or they will make him their business, to get him before he has a chance to."

"Pomerooy is a menace, and he will be to the end of his days. Who can tell when and in what form his mania for blood may reappear? All medical authority is agreed that it is never possible to determine when such a case is cured, if indeed it is curable."

"During the four years I was in the Council I always gave Pomerooy an opportunity to be heard. For a long time he complained to me about the light in his cell and wanted a change made. He complained that his defective eye was giving him a great deal of trouble."

"I arranged to have the most noted oculist in Massachusetts visit Pomerooy and examine and treat him. When I told Pomerooy of this he flew into a rage and refused with a snarl to see the oculist. He has absolutely no appreciation for anything that is done for him."

"Jesse Pomerooy simply cannot be trusted, even in the most trivial matters. He has proved that time and time again. Massachusetts doesn't want to punish a defective, but she does want to be protected from him."

"Pomerooy has been confined in a large cell of modern construction, as sanitary, clean and healthful a place in which to stay as could be desired. He has all he wants to eat and can read, work as he sees fit. He has the best of go."

medical attention when he requires it.

"Keep him there. Give him the privilege of attending chapel, under guard, but don't allow sentimentalists to break down the splendid morale that years of patient, intelligent and constructive work by Warden Bridges and Allen has built up in the State Prison."

Will Stay at Least 24 Hours in Punishment.

Early and stubborn in his refusal to obey the orders of Warden Nathan D. Allen to go into the yard and work with the other inmates of the State Prison, Jesse Pomerooy was this morning placed in light solitary confinement with a board for a bed and a bread and water diet.

The duration of this punishment will depend upon the prisoner's own conduct. In the past penalties of solitary confinement for inmates have lasted on an average for 30 days. Pomerooy's punishment will extend for at least 24 hours. After that time, if the prisoner has a change of heart and decides to make himself amenable to prison rules and regulations he will be removed.

Pomerooy's solitary confinement resulted from his reiteration to the warden this morning of his refusal to accept the change in his sentence recently granted by the Executive Council and to be placed on the same standing as the other prisoners. Obstinacy and indignation at the change marked his conversation with Warden Allen and Deputy Warden William Hendry.

The two prison officials walked in Cherry Hill about 8:30 this morning, took Pomerooy from his cell into the neighboring office and questioned him.

Refused to Enter Yard.
"Have you thought over the new change about which I told you?" asked the warden.

"Yes," said Pomerooy.

"And have you made up your mind to obey the rules and regulations and the orders of the warden and deputy warden?"

"No," was the reply.

"I order you now," commanded the warden, "to go into the yard this morning with the other men. Are you going?"

"No, sir," asserted Pomerooy. "I won't accept a new sentence. I won't work as he sees fit. He has the best of go."

"Then you do not propose to obey the rules under the new sentence?"

"No."

The deputy then took Pomerooy to Fort Russell, a wing of the prison adjoining Cherry Hill and placed him in a solitary cell.

Pomerooy will find life in solitary far different from that which he has enjoyed in his cell in Cherry Hill. There he slept on a mattress cot, enjoyed the use of books; was well fed, had running water and other conveniences. In his new confinement he will be served with bread and water, enjoying perhaps one meal of victuals each day. He will sleep on a board that stands about six inches from the floor. There will be no accessories to comfort.

The cell is 6 by 10 feet and 8 or 9 feet high. The heavy door inside the bars will remain open, admitting light from the three windows in the side of the wall.

Little Work To Do.

Least such conditions affect the prisoner's health, he will be visited daily by Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, the prison physician, to ascertain his physical condition. Should his health be impaired or his heart found to be weak, he will be placed in another cell with better conditions.

Had Pomerooy obeyed the warden's command to go into the yard with the other prisoners he would have found little work, as there is practically nothing to do there but clean up the grounds, pick up papers, etc. Pomerooy, when ordered to solitary confinement, made no comment and without resistance accompanied the guard and deputy warden to Fort Russell.

Warden Allen stated later that he will make no further statements for publication in regard to Pomerooy, as he is to be treated like any other prisoner. His refusal to obey orders is regarded by the officials as prejudicial to good order and discipline.

It is probable, therefore, that when Pomerooy is removed from solitary it will become known through Prison Commissioner Cyrus Adams, to whom the warden must make special report of such action.

THAT KNIFE-LIKE PAIN

Is Only One of Nature's Warnings of Weak or Diseased Kidneys.

Have you a lame back, aching day and night? Do you feel sharp pains after stooping? Are the kidneys sore? Is their action irregular? Use Donnan's Kidney Pills—the medicine recommended by so many Portsmouth people. Read this case:

Stephen H. Goodwin, baker, 21 New-Castle St., Portsmouth, says: "When lifting a barrel of flour, I strained my back and wrenched my kidneys. Sharp pains came on just over my hips. I was told of Donnan's Kidney Pills and as I am on my feet all the time while working, I decided to try them. They gave me relief from this pain and I have nothing but good to say of Donnan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Donnan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Goodwin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapain" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—into your stomach, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, let this down: Pape's Diapain digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapain" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapain" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapain from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

FOR COAST DEFENSE

Fifty-One Millions Appropriated by Congress.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The administration's $500,000,000 defense budget began to take final shape in congress today when the house passed the fortifications bill carrying a total of more than $51,000,000 for coast defenses, and the house naval committee completed its 1918 naval appropriation bill with a total of more than $351,000,000.

The army appropriation bill, the third element of the program, still is in the house military committee, which is expected to complete it next week. Estimates of the army reach a total of more than $360,000,000, exclusive of numerous deficiency measures resulting from the border mobilization and the rising cost of war materials.

The only other military legislation pending is the universal military training bill before a senate subcommittee which will conclude its hearings this week, when Major Gen. Scott and Wood are to be recalled for cross-examination by Senator Blair Lee of Maryland on their previous statement that federalization of the national guard has proved a failure.

It is not expected that congress will take any action on the universal training bill at this session.

The naval bill carries a total of $351,333,325, as against $313,000,000 last year. It provides for the construction of three 42,000-ton battleships at a total cost of $28,178,592 each one battle cruiser at a cost of $26,001,196; three scout cruisers at $4,716,145 each; 15 destroyers at $1,748,612 each; one destroyer tender at $2,808,000; one submarine tender at $2,199,400, and eighteen 800-ton type submarines at $1,434,000 each. The program is that recommended by the department and represents one-half of the remaining portion of the three-year program approved last year.

The committee departed from the department's recommendations only in the type of submarines provided for. No small coast defense submarines are authorized, the committee having decided against the small 400 to 600 ton type of boat such as those now in service.

Taking up the problem of getting under construction the four battle cruisers authorized last year, the committee raised the limit of cost for the hull and machinery to $19,000,000 from $16,500,000. Department officials believe all four vessels can be placed with private builders at that figure.

The committee also headed, however, Secretary Daniels' recommendations that navy yards be fitted to build large numbers of capital ships authorizing the expenditure of an additional $12,000,000 for that purpose in the event the department is unable to make satisfactory contracts for any vessel in the present bill or left over from the preceding measure. This would make available a total of $18,000,000 for equipping navy yards.

For the three scout cruisers still awaiting satisfactory bids, the committee raised the cost for the hull and machinery to $6,000,000 from $5,999,000. One vessel was ordered from the Seattle Construction Company some months ago at the lower figure, but no other bids were received.

To encourage the completion of the 1000-foot state dry dock at Boston, the committee proposed that the secretary of the navy be authorized to enter into a contract with the state guaranteeing $50,000 worth of government work to the dock for each of six years. A similar agreement was made with the Union Iron Works of San Francisco some time ago to encourage construction of the Hunter's Point dry dock on San Francisco bay.

Another new provision of the bill raises the number of appointments annually at Annapolis to be made from the enlisted personnel of the navy from 25 to 100. Appointments may be made whenever vacancies occur.

The new battleships will be the most powerful war vessels ever built. They will have a speed of 23 knots and hour and carry main batteries of 12 16-inch guns each instead of the 8 16-inch guns on the four authorized last year.

OBSEQUES

Mrs. Susan Abigail Knox.

The funeral services of Mrs. Susan Abigail Knox, widow of the late Ira S. Knox of Milton, N. H., were held at 2 o'clock, Jan. 27, at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. Henry I. Durgin, at South Eliot, Me., the Rev. D. H. Conlon of the Congregational church officiating.

Two selections, "A Perfect Day" and "Heaven is Not Far Away," were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Dr. Buckley, of Milton, N. H. The pall bearers were A. W. Nowell, J. W. Hill, house, C. E. Jones and C. F. Drake. Mrs. Knox was born in Milton, Feb. 23, 1828, and lived there all her life till the death of her husband in 1910, when she came to reside with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Henry I. Durgin, where she was tenderly cared for till her death. United in marriage Jan. 24, 1850, she and her husband lived to celebrate their fifty-first wedding anniversary in 1910 and were finally reunited by her death which occurred on her 87th wedding day. She was a lifelong member of the Congregational church at Milton, where she was much beloved.

Mrs. Knox had lived nearly eighty-nine years, and while rather feeble physically for some time had retained her mental faculties to a remarkable degree. Since living in this town she had endeared herself to both old and young by her kindly humor and quiet philosophy and will be greatly missed by many. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. William O. Hayes of Lynn, Mass., and Mrs. Henry I. Durgin of South Eliot, Me., also a grandson, Mr. Winslow Hayes, to mourn her loss. "Her children rise up to call her blessed." A profusion of flowers expressed love and sympathy of the many friends and neighbors.

John E. Tobey

The funeral of John E. Tobey was held from his late home at Kittery Point Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. E. W. Cummings officiating. A delegation from Piscataqua Lodge, I. O. O. F., attended and held services. The interment was in Free Baptist cemetery under the direction of A. T. Parker.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

Concord, Jan. 30.—Petitions in bankruptcy have been filed with Clerk Burns P. Hodgman of the United States court by the following: Martin and Potter of Laconia, John P. Martin and Antonio Potter, liabilities $1,267.18, assets $246.50; George Long of Concord, liabilities $1,269.96, no assets. A creditors' petition against the Berlin Commission Company of Berlin, Clarence J. Brooks, and Leonard McDaniel, has also been filed.

The local delegation to the legislature returned to Concord this forenoon. This is to be a week of hearings on several of the important bills. The judiciary committee has 460 bills out of something like over 700 introduced, to either grant hearing on or kill without public hearings.

A post card received here from Berlin yesterday, has been since Dec. 28 on the journey.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish; don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

ELKS AND P. A. C.
SPLIT EVENFormer Take Billiards and the Tournament.

The Portsmouth Lodge of Elks and the Portsmouth Athletic Club split even in their interclub series held last evening at the Athletic Club on Court street. But two games were played, billiards and pitch, and the Elks carried away the honors in the former and the P. A. C. in the latter.

Points count in these series of interclub meets and while the billiard matches went even, the Elks won by 14 points. In the pitch there were nine teams and at the conclusion of the play the P. A. C. figured up to 1249, and the Elks 1238. The result of the billiard matches were:

ELKS: J. M. Washburn, 100. J. G. Tobey, 52. Dr. J. M. Carty, 100. G. Philbrick, 90. Harry Mowse, 90. Fred Smart, 100. Chas. Amhoff, 66. Fred Coleman, 100. Following the matches a buffet lunch was served.

That Portsmouth has 20 candidates for the place of fish and game warden although they are numerous in all parts of the state.

That a complaint made by Rev. Edward A. Tuck at Concord prevented a Sunday hockey game between Manchester and Concord.

That the police have picked a team for the bowling contest against the newspaper men.

That a few changes from the original lineup will be made.

That the government is getting busy with the preliminary work on the big submarine at the navy yard.

That the next big spread at the yacht club will be a Swedish feed.

That the club members will not say who will prepare the famous dishes of Sweden.

That members of the local order of Knights of Columbus are arranging for a party to go to Dover to witness the performance of the Dover order on Monday evening next.

That Mrs. Florence Cowles, under the name of Florence Walcott is writing special articles for a Boston Sunday paper.

That this was proven at the recent fire in Epping.

OLYMPIA THEATRE
NOTES

The President of Switzerland receives a salary of $3,000 a year. We'd rather be a movie star than a President.

More than half a dozen of our most popular screen stars receive more than $3,000 a week.

Nearly 11,000,000 letters reached the dead letter office last year.—That beats the movie writing habit.

Movie etiquette: When placing your new winter hat on the adjacent seat, see to it that the hat pin is removed.

Always take the end seat in the vacant row so that everyone must climb over your feet in getting to their seats.

"The Children Pay," the Triangle Fine Arts picture with Lillian Gish, which is shown for the last time tonight, is a splendid play, its plot being based on real life.

The story shows that the children pay and what becomes of them because of divorce.

Every married couple should see this picture tonight.

The Paramount picture on the bill is "The Making of Maddalena," with Edna Goodrich in her screen debut.

It is a picture with its locale laid in New York and Rome.

On Wednesday and Thursday the special attraction is "The Straight Way," a William Fox play, presenting Valeska Suratt, the fashion plate of moving pictures.

She was last seen in "The Soul of Broadway" at the Scenic Theatre, some months ago.

The latter picture at that time created a great sensation and we have had scores of requests for a return date of that picture and for more Valeska Suratt plays.

Don't forget that on Friday and Saturday we shall present the greatest bill ever shown at this theatre.

Mrs. Vernon Castle, William S. Hart, and the final episode of "The Shielding Shadow".

"VERY GOOD EDDIE" TONIGHT.

"Very Good Eddie," which is to be seen at the Colonial for one performance, this evening, is one of those tantalizing riddles which set at naught all the best laid plans of mice and men and managerial geniuses. For how could ever such an astute pair of theatrical wisacres as Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Mr. F. Ray Comstock possibly prognosticate that this dainty little musical play would be the great success of the past theatrical year in New York?
